

Children's Classes Instructors for Fall 2020

We so appreciate the art teachers who are supporting Miss Alison until she returns in January 2021.

Tamara Woronczuk (Miss Alison's Guest Teacher)

Tamara is retired NJ art teacher with forty years of experience in the classroom teaching grades K-12. She holds a Master's Degree in Art Education and Painting from NYU and has won many regional awards for her mixed media work. In this OCAG class we will follow the usual emphasis on drawing, painting, use of color and design but with some additional touches of mixed media, using additional materials to enhance our work. Some projects may include making small books, 3-d painting, pop-ups and cardboard sculpture.

Leona Lavone (Miss Alison's Guest Teacher)

Leona is an Art Teacher who loves sharing her creativity and inspiring her students. Way back when for over 10 yrs. she spent her summers being a workshop junky taking many watercolor classes. Then in 1999 Leona was invited to teach a watercolor class at the OCAG. A short time after, in 2000, Leona began handling all the visiting artist's workshops. Teaching along with hosting the workshops gave her an extensive Art Education.

In 2014 she started to work in the activities department, along with putting together an Arts & Crafts program, for a Senior Residence Facility where her husband was living. It was another learning experience. On occasion, Alison had Leona fill in for her sessions with the kids while she was out of town. Leona has been instructing for over 20 years, all ages 5 to 100!

AnnMarie Dario (Miss Alison's Guest Teacher)

AnnMarie graduated from Pratt Institute with a Master's Degree in Art Therapy and Creative Development. She is a Registered Art Therapist and holds a Teaching certificate in New Jersey. She has worked with children and teens for over 25 years. AnnMarie has two grown children and balances her life with the arts, travel and reading

Marcie Falconetti (3D Gourd Teacher)

Marcie had taught on the Guila Indian Reservation in Arizona, as well as at the Lacy Middle School in Lacy, NJ for challenged children. She has also taught children of friends & neighbors in her Private Studio over the past 10 years.
